

BASEBALL PLAYER PLAYS GOAT AND BUTTS A BALL

Capahas' Star Center Fielder, Told to "Use His Head," Drops Bat and Dives Into Curve.

When a baseball player attempts something that a billy goat wouldn't go up against, the baseball player is simply flouting with death, according to Ervin Meyer, the star center fielder for the Capahas, and he ought to know.

When Meyer went to bat in the third inning of the game between the Capahas and New Madrid Sunday afternoon, Ervin's captain called the young player aside and confidentially told him to "use his head."

And when it comes to obeying orders, Meyer stands out like a house on fire. "I get you, kid," was Ervin's encouraging reply to his superior.

When he walked up to the plate he smiled and acted as if he proposed to remove the cover from the horsehide. Two high ones passed and Ervin winked his left eye at the members of his team who were waiting for him to line 'er out.

Then he walked the third ball. It was a vicious inshoot and made a bee line for the plate. Remembering his captain's orders, Ervin dropped his bat and plunged headfirst at the ball. The collision was head-on, and Meyer went down for what his comrades supposed was for the count.

He arose and waddled off toward first base, but before he could get his lower extremities to working regularly again, Ervin was tagged.

"The next man that tells me to 'use my head' is going to be murdered on the spot," said the center fielder. "Why, I believe that put a dent in my bean. My roof feels like it was leaking. Never again for that goat stuff."

HEALTH BOARD WANTS CITY TO MOVE GARBAGE

Dr. Wichterich Says Plan the Tribune Outlined is Best for City

HE AND MAYOR WILL URGE ACTION TODAY

Councilman Fowler Joins Throng of Supporters and Says He Will Help

The Tribune's campaign for a plan to dispose of the city's garbage met with a responsive chord from the residents of Cape Girardeau yesterday, and especially from the members of the Civic Improvement Association and the city physicians.

The Board of Health will take up the matter at its regular meeting this afternoon, and the probabilities are that it will send an urgent request to the City Council for favorable action Monday night.

"I am delighted to know that The Tribune has taken up this important question," said Dr. R. F. Wichterich, a member of the Board of Health, yesterday afternoon. "I am heartily in favor of any plan that will rid this city of its refuse, and I am certain that the whole medical fraternity will support The Tribune."

"I don't believe an incinerating plant would be advisable. I prefer the dumping system as outlined by Mayor Kage in his interview published in The Tribune today. The Mayor took a popular view, and I am quite sure that Congressman Russell would assist the city to get a Government permit to dump the offal in the river."

"I have advocated this movement before, but failed to get the proper support to compel the city to act. The Board of Health will take the question up at its meeting Friday afternoon, and I am quite certain they will approve the plan outlined by The Tribune."

Mayor Kage is President of the Board of Health, and he will recommend to the Board that it go on record in favor of immediate action. As was stated in yesterday's Tribune, Mayor Kage will ask the Council to take some action that will relieve the city of the garbage nuisance, in his message to that body Monday evening.

Councilman Jack Fowler yesterday announced that he would vote Monday night to have the city take care of the refuse. "The dumping boat idea seems best to me," said Mr. Fowler. "I don't imagine it would be very expensive, but whether it is or not, Cape Girardeau is too big and too progressive to tolerate present conditions longer."

"The Tribune, it seems to me has struck a live issue and I hope we can all get together and settle the question properly."

Dr. G. W. Walker, former member of the Board of Health, said yesterday that he was in favor of the Council immediately acting upon The Tribune's suggestion for the establishment of some plan to dispose of the garbage.

"I don't believe an incinerating plant would give satisfaction," said Dr. Walker, "although it has been very successful in many of the large cities. I think the city would get the most satisfactory results by dumping the refuse in the river. This, I think, would be the surest way of disposing of it."

Councilman Jack Fowler expressed a desire that quick action be taken.

He stated that there was enough refuse matter deposited in the gulleys and broken ground in the outlying sections of the city to create epidemics beyond the control of all the doctors that could be procured.

He referred to two places in particular where conditions were intolerable on account of the deposits of refuse that have accumulated.

He stated that the odor arising from the gulleys on South Sprigg near Elm street was almost unbearable, and that along Morgan-Oak street west of the brewery something would have to be done in order to preserve the health of the community. He believed that if arrangements could be made whereby the garbage could be put on barges and taken out into the river and dumped that the problem would be satisfactorily disposed of and, that he would heartily endorse such a movement.

BEES SETTLE ON MAN.

Caruthersville, June 26.—Sam Newby presented the spectacle of a walking bee hive here Friday morning when a swarm of bees which he had followed up Word avenue, settled upon the front of his clothing.

The bees were flying about apparently without a queen. Mr. Newby was following them with a bell and holding a broom for them to settle upon, but this did not prove attractive. Finally he got a branch of a tree, but the insects did not approve of this and settled upon the front of his clothing.

After he had got them all settled, Mr. Newby posed for some of our local photographers and later walked slowly to his home, where he succeeded in getting the bees in a box and they are now going ahead merrily with their regular work.

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.

Perryville, Mo., June 26.—John Ziegler of this city has prepared a remedy for keeping hogs healthy and prevent cholera. If used regularly you need not fear cholera.

Take of black antimony 2 lbs., copperas 1½ lbs., epsom salts 2 lbs., sulphur 2 lbs., gun powder 1½ lbs., ashes of walnut bark 2 lbs., ashes of hickory bark 2 lbs., common salt 2 lbs., charcoal 2 lbs., stone coal 2 lbs., pulverize, mix and use in 20 days.

Directions—Put tablespoon full to each hog, put in slop or bran, wet or dry, and give once a month. If cholera is among herd, give two table-spoons full every other day. Drench sick hog that refuses to drink with sweet milk containing remedy twice a day.

GREECE TO GET SHIPS.

TREATY SECRETS TOLD, SAYS STONE

He is Angry by Disclosure of Germany's Effort To Outbid U. S.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—Senator Stone is on a still hunt for the member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, who has been revealing secrets of the Colombian and Nicaraguan treaty negotiations. A Republican Senator of prominence is said to be under suspicion. If the case is proved on him he will be dismissed from the committee.

Democratic members of the committee, of which Senator Stone is chairman, are particularly incensed because of the publication here of confidential statements made to the committee by the Nicaraguan Minister, Gen. Don Emiliano Chamorro, regarding Germany's efforts to purchase a canal site. The bid is said to have exceeded the $3,000,000 offered by the United States in the pending treaty.

The Minister, it is said, made his statement to the committee, after saying that he understood his confidence would be respected by the Senators just as is the confidence of the foreign diplomats respected at the State Department. He was assured it would be.

The appearance of the statement in Washington morning papers roiled the Democratic majority of the committee. The Senator under suspicion is said to have been questioned, but disarmed his colleagues by agreeing with them that the man who "talked outside" is unworthy the respect of gentlemen.

The committee has suffered embarrassment by the publication of confidential information during the consideration of the two treaties. It has been the subject of comment that this information is being used by the Republican press as the basis of attacks on President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

DRENCHING RAINS FALL ALL OVER THE STATE

Fruit Also Helped in Northeast Missouri—Long Drouth in Ozarks Broken.

Springfield, Mo., July 1.—A drenching rain last night and today broke a drouth in the Ozarks which had existed for 50 days in many sections. Corn, which had begun to feel the need of rain badly, now promises a heavy yield.

The fall was from three quarters of an inch to two inches.

Northeast Missouri Corn and Fruit Crops Helped.

Montgomery, Mo., July 1.—North-east Missouri was visited by an inch and a half of rain last night, coming in time to save the big corn crop. Public meetings for the purpose of praying for rain had been held and the farmers were greatly depressed. The rain will also help the big fruit crop.

Two Inches of Rain is Reported at Mexico.

Mexico, Mo., July 1.—A rainfall totalling two inches fell here last night and practically assured one of the greatest corn crops in the history of Audrian County.

Rain at Perryville.

Perryville, Mo., July 1.—A rain which almost reached the proportions of a could burst fell here today, relieving the crops.

PARLOW DRAWING PLANS FOR ARKANSAS BUILDING

Cape Architect Also Will Build Moving Picture Show at Oran.

W. E. Parlow, a well known architect of this city is and preparing drawings plans for a splendid new office building to be constructed in Osceola, Ark.

The structure will cost about $8,000. It will be two stories high and built of brick construction. It is intended to be strictly an office building and will be occupied principally by lawyers. J. T. Coston, a well known attorney of Osceola, will own the building.

Mr. Parlow also has the architectural contract for a neat little picture show building in Oran. The work on this building has already started and will be completed and ready for occupancy in about two months. The building will be owned by A. J. Matthews and when finished will cost about $4,000.

Attorney N. L. Atwood of Oran, accompanied by Mrs. Atwood, was in the Cape Thursday with the view of purchasing a part of the Judge R. L. Wilson library.

MUCH STREET WORK BEGUN.

City Engineer, Chris Stiver reports that extensive work is being done in the way of street improvements at this time.

The work is being pushed rapidly and the improvements already made are quite noticeable. Contractor T. J. Shorb is working with a large force of men laying concrete on Jefferson Avenue between Benton street and Henderson Avenue.

The work on Bellevue street from Lorimer to Pacific, being done by Contractor John Rouse, is rapidly nearing completion, and at this time it is all finished except the last block upon which the asphalt is being laid and which it is expected will be completed today.

That part of Henderson Avenue extending from Williams street to Independence street, originally contracted by John Rouse, has been sublet to J. E. Evans who is progressing rapidly with the work. The sub-grade will soon be ready for the concrete.

The engineer will give stakes for curb and finished concrete on Washington avenue from Frederick street to Fountain street this morning. Contractor Herman Loeffel has his curbs almost completed on Frederick street from William street to Merriweather, and will begin concreting next Monday or Tuesday.

It is said that on account of the limited time in which Mr. Shorb is required to finish his contract and his inadequate facilities for meeting the requirements, contractor Loeffel
